This social story only covers Designosaurs, please use this alongside our general Glasgow Science Centre visit social story.

Booking A Designosaurs Session

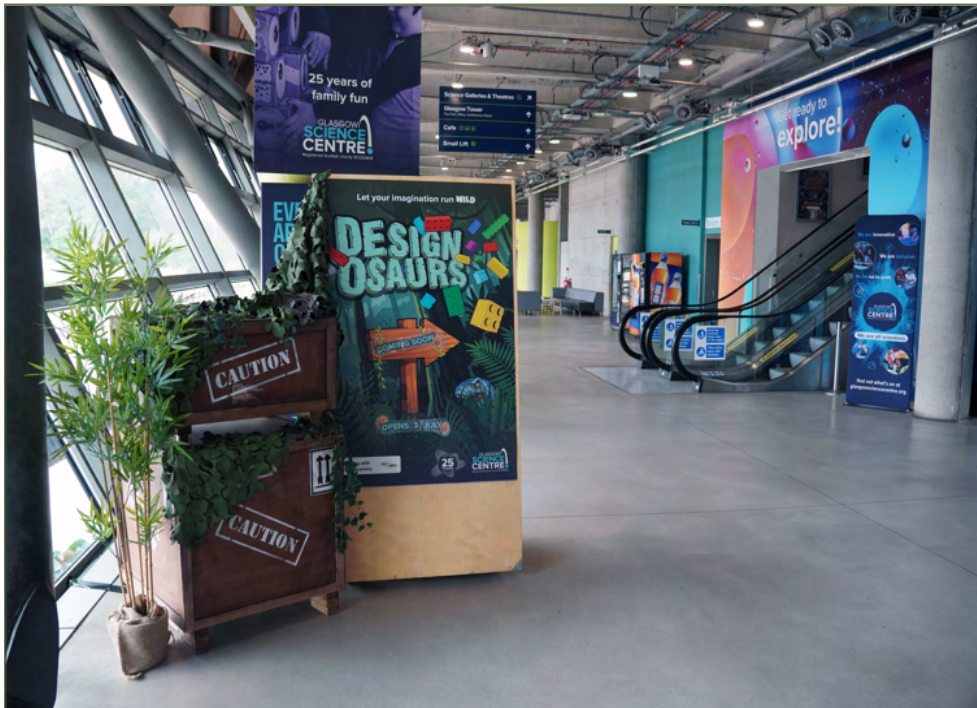

I am going to Designosaurs at Glasgow Science Centre.

Before I can enter the exhibition space, I need to go to the ticket desk where I can choose a time slot for my session. I will get a printed ticket which I need to keep safe.

Designosaurs Entrance

Designosaurs is in a large room on the ground floor of Glasgow Science Centre. I need to wait until the doors open for the start of my session.

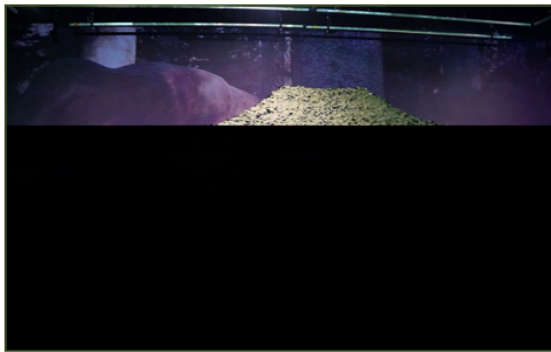

Entering Designosaurs

When it is time for my session, a staff member will open the doors, ask to see my ticket and welcome me into the space.

Designosaur Activities

I can enjoy the different activities in the room. My session will last 1 hour.
If I need help at any time, I can ask a staff member.
A staff member will let me know when I have 15 minutes left.

Designosaur Activities

Once my time is up, I will need to leave Designosaurs through the door I came in. I can take a picture of my Lego creation, but I can't take it away with me.
